TRAVERTINE COLLECTION

About Us

Alistone Marble was established in 2005 on a closed area of 10 thousand m² and a total area of 40 thousand m².

It produces travertine materials in classic and walnut tones by processing the raw material obtained from its own natural stone quarry.

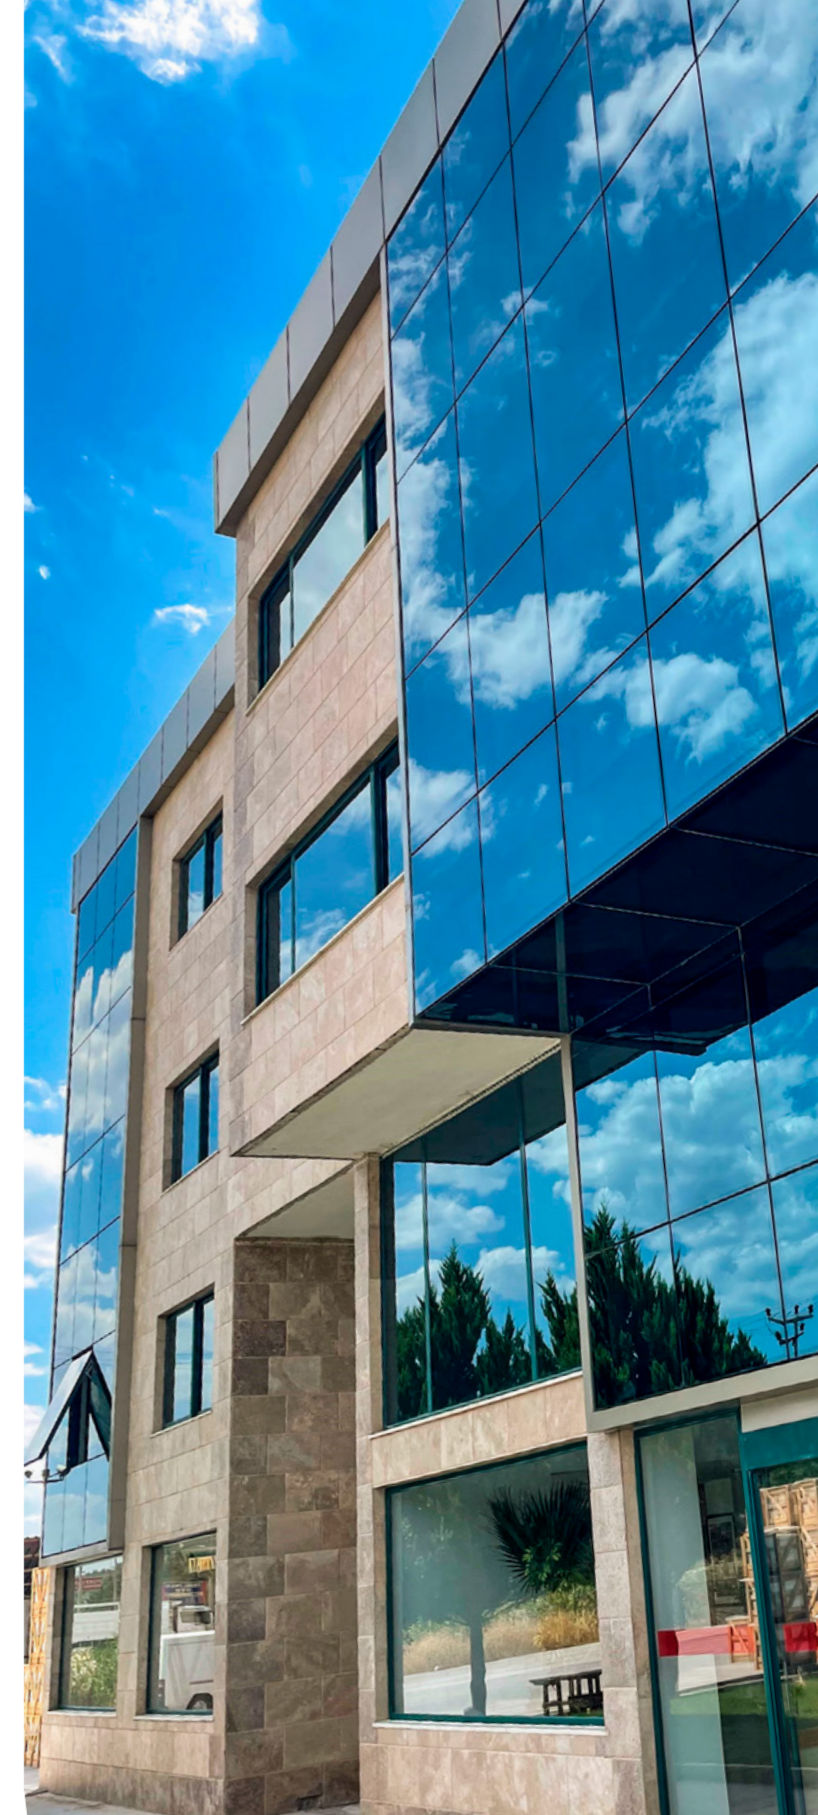

A favorite of many architects and interior decorators, Travertine is an enduring classic that dates back to ancient Roman times. Today, this luxury stone glamorize modern spaces with its sculptural beauty, organic texture and functional diversity.

Travertine is an important building material for interior and exterior spaces with its unique naturalness and inimitable color transitions.

Alistone marble exports travertine, the perfect eye-catching material of our living spaces, internationally.

It has adopted customer satisfaction and production continuity with its reliable, honest and quality service understanding.
